N/A, Kapaau, HI

Perched just above the North Kohala coastline in historic Halawa, this stunning 13.3 acre ocean view property is bordered by a gulch and seasonal stream on one side and flanked by large acreage on the other.

Featuring sweeping Pacific vistas from multiple potential building sites, this property offers unmatched privacy in a cool, breezy tropical climate. Most tropical fruits and plants thrive in this setting “ perfect for growing vegetables year round.

Steeped in history, this part of Kohala is famed for its jaw-dropping valleys and coastal setting. It is also situated in the lowest-risk lava zone on Hawaii island. Located in a quaint community, the property is serviced by a paved road all the way to the main gate.

Although off-grid living is quite feasible here, a county water meter is present, and electrical poles are not far from the boundary line (consult Hawaiian Electric for details).

The majority of the property is fenced, and currently grazed by horses. A full survey report is available upon request.
