HOVE, Ocean View, HI

Two side X side acres with big Ohia trees and other native plants, a collapsed lava tube and possible cave with ocean views from lot 11. A potential wonderland for folks interested in the natural environment, volcanic features and privacy. Plenty of possible building sites, paid power on street and excellent location in the lower subdivision... near shopping centers, school bus and Highway 11. Ocean View is a growing rural community with large lots, scattered housing and no c,c&rs. State and County codes and statues do apply. All household water is via catchment and septic systems are required. The climate is ideal, warm days and cool nights, with great stargazing. Located at the south end of the Big Island, there are many recreational opportunities; surfing, fishing, hiking, with Volcanoes National Park and other state and federal parks nearby. Great weather, a beautiful environment and plenty to do with your leisure time, Big Island Hawaii is still affordable. Visit and see for yourself!
