Residential on 1.02 Acres

MCCOY PLANTATION SUBDIVISION,
Captain Cook, HI

This stunning 4-bedroom, 3.5-bath home captures some of the most coveted views in Kona. From the front lanais, the panorama extends from historic Kealahou Bay where Captain Cook first landed in Hawai'i and where dolphins, surfers, and fishermen still gather today, down the beautiful South Kona coastline as far as the eye can see.

The lush one-acre lot features meandering rock walls, paths and steps that wind through the property in a gentle loop, leading to terraced gardens planted with avocados, citrus, pineapple, 'ulu (Hawaiian breadfruit), and more.

The thoughtful layout includes two primary suites on the first floor along with the kitchen, living and dining areas, an office, and both front and back lanais. Upstairs, a spacious lanai with a wet bar complements two additional bedrooms, a full bathroom, and a versatile bonus room; perfect for a sewing space, yoga studio, or home office.

The main primary suite is a private retreat, complete with travertine floors, a walk-in shower, a soaking tub, and a spacious walk-in closet. An adjoining office, outfitted with built-in Koa cabinetry and a desk, adds a functional and luxurious touch.

The gourmet kitchen has premium appliances and custom Koa cabinets, bringing island charm into everyday living. Tasmanian blackwood floors extend throughout the second primary suite and the upstairs bedrooms.

The upstairs lanai, complete with a wet bar, is perfect for entertaining or relaxing while taking in the spectacular views.

Lanais on both sides of the home provide versatile outdoor sitting areas, ideal for enjoying Konaâ€™s gentle breezes and shifting light throughout the day. Relax in the serene hot tub or rinse off in the outdoor shower.

A 56-panel solar system with net metering ensures energy efficiency.
